Rain Needed In More Ways Than One

Tennis Tourney Well Advanced But Clay Courts In Need Of Moisture

Gratifying interest is being displayed in the tennis tourney which started last Thursday evening. Misses Joyce Moyle and Elva McMow were the first to play, the former winning 6-5, 6-1 in two fairly long sets. Mrs. J. Boorman and Ruth Moyle played good tennis in two very close sets, resulting in a win for the former 7-5, 7-5. To date no more ladies' singles have been played, possibly owing to the holiday season but the final should be reached by August 13th.

John Eubank and Melvin Huget started off the men's singles with a bang. Johnny had the edge on the Royal Bank man, his faster serve standing him in good stead, but it was apparent that there was a lot of easy swatting back and forth instead of good placing. The result was 6-2, 6-2.

Bob Eubank fought a close match Saturday evening, playing a number of deuce games, and the first a very close deuce set. Bob won the two, 7-5, 6-4. Excellent work was evident from both sides of the net.

Playing on a hot afternoon, Benjie Robinson won 6-2, 6-3 from W. Cathroe, Saturday. C. Studer won handily from Ed. Gooder on Tuesday evening.

In the mixed doubles Mr. and Mrs. J. Boorman took the best of the two sets last Friday morning when they played Ruth Moyle and Ernie Fletcher. The first set ended 6-1, but the second set seemed a turn of the tide for the latter when they were up three games, but losing in the end 6-4.

A good time to play is in the early morning and in order to complete the tournament in reasonable time players should not waste any time in making arrangements to play their sets, best 2 out of 3. The finals must be reached not later than August 13 if at all possible.

The clay courts are as much in need of rain as anything and until the heavens open out with a good downpour they cannot be put in as good shape as they might be.

LOCAL & GENERAL

A series of evangelistic, instructional and prophetic messages will be given at West Zion Mennonite Church, Carstairs, from Aug. 5-11. Evangelist, Bishop C. F. Derstine, Kitchener, Ont. Welcome to everybody.

Over a Century in Railroading

Sixty-one active years in railroading is the unique record of W. J. Grant, district freight agent of the Canadian Pacific Railway at Hamilton and this length of service is claimed never to have been reached by any other railwayman in the Dominion. Mr. Grant has just retired and 46 of his 61 years of service have been with the C.P.R. At the same time Mr. J. P. Clancy, assistant foreign freight agent of the C.P.R. at Toronto, has also retired after 45 years of service with the Allan Steamships Line and the Canadian Pacific. Between them they have completed 106 years in railway service. Photographs show, left, Mr. Grant; right, Mr. Clancy; below, J. W. Maguire, who succeeds Mr. Grant as district freight agent at Hamilton.

Local Pupils Pass Music Examinations

At the recent examination of the R.A.M. and R.C.M. held at Didsbury, the following pupils of Miss Victoria Thomson, L.R.A.M., were successful:

The W.C.T.U. will meet at the home of Mrs. J. R. Cunningham Thursday, August 8th at 3 p.m. All members are requested to attend as at this meeting the election of officers will take place.

A big horseshoe tournament will be staged at the Acme Old Timers' Ass'n picnic at Kever lake, August 9th. Sports of all kinds—baseball, races, water sports, etc. Big dance in the evening.

Gavin Spence will be in Didsbury in a few days with Mr. H. Norton. Your piano cost too much to risk incompetent tuners. Twenty consecutive years tuning service, in this district speaks for itself. Get the best. Phone orders to Pioneer Office. 31-1

ROBERT FORKE'S VOLTE FACE

Robert Forke says: "The Best Immigrants Are Those Who Can Pay Their Own Way," and this Robert Forke is the man responsible for hundreds of thousands of practically destitute people from Southeast Europe being brought in to satisfy the railways and other multi-millionaires' piteous cries for "cheap labor," lowering the whole standard of living in Canada—but what cared they, as long as the millionaires amassed yet more mighty millions for themselves.

And now Robert Forke turns right round and has the nerve to say: "The best immigrants are those who can pay their own way." Many people will think that Bishop Lloyd's denunciations are having a wonderfully good and wholesome effect, when they cause even Robert Forke to say that "The best immigrants are those who can pay their own way."

Through the co-operation of Mr. Sharp of the Myfair Itinerant Pictures, the U.F.A. are treating the little folks to a free picture-show in East Community Hall on the evening of Thursday, August 8th at 8 o'clock. A lunch will be served after the show and then a dance for the older people will be held—snappy music. Bring the kiddies—its their evening.

Second Interim Wheat Pool Payment Announced Yesterday

A second interim payment on wheat delivered during the past crop year was announced by the Alberta Wheat Pool on Wednesday, July 31st. The basis of payment is:

1 Northern 17 1-2c, 2 Nor. 14c, 3 Nor. 13 1-2c, 4 Wheat 18 1-2c, 5 Wheat 12c, 6 Wheat 4c. Feed Wheat 3 1-2c. The following tough: 1 Nor. 23c, 2 Nor. 20 1-2c, 3 Nor. 18 1-2c, No. 4 22 1-2c, No. 5 16 1-2c, No. 6 17 1-2c. Feed 10 1-2c.

Besides the above, payments were made on something like eighty other grades ranging as high as 46 1-2c on 3 tough smutty wheat, to as low as 3c on broken wheat.

The total amount of the payment made by the Alberta Pool was over eight million dollars. Another payment will be made during the coming fall.

Deductions for elevator and commercial reserves and for operating expenses, totalling 4c a bushel, have been made from the payment to the members. This amount is slightly more than will be required but the exact figures will not be available for some time yet, at the end of the Pool's business year. When the final figures are available the excess will be refunded to members along with the final payment.

Taking every phase of the marketing year into consideration it must be admitted that this interim payment is on the whole a very good one. It may appear to some that the payment on No. 6 and feed wheat is proportionately small, but it must be remembered that when the initial payment on the higher grades was cut from $1 to 85c last fall the payment on No. 6 and feed wheat was cut only by 5c a bushel.

The 1928-29 crop year was a difficult one for the Canadian Wheat Pool because of the unusual heavy production the world over. Canada raised a record crop, about 520 million bushels.

Coming as it does at a time when crops generally are none too promising this Pool payment will be thrice welcome. The size of the payment will undoubtedly be a surprise to some for it was predicted during the low range of wheat prices in the spring that the Pool might possibly be unable to make any further payments.

Hike For Health!

Automobile laziness is stated to be the cause of one hundred times as many deaths annually as are caused by automobile accidents. The automobile has made it possible for us to get through life with hardly any exercise unless we are fortunate enough to be employed in some variety of of manual labour. This has completely changed our mode of living but not our diet; we still eat the same quantities of rich heavy food customary many years ago.

Easy and quick transportation at any time by automobile should be one of our chief blessings; to many it appears to be far from that. The medical profession has been aware for some time of the great increase of disease among the well-to-do. The situation has become so marked that our great insurance companies are becoming seriously alarmed. Investigation has shown that fully 90 per cent. of the well-to-do members of our population have either undergone an operation or are suffering from some kind of disease, and the number of sudden deaths of apparently healthy people is increasing alarmingly.

The blame for all this is placed unhesitatingly upon the thoughtless use of the automobile. To preserve his health man must exercise. The languid game of golf after sitting all day either in his office or automobile has proved but a poor substitute. Even less effective is the modern method of enjoying our sports by sitting on a grand stand and watching others play baseball, football, or horses run a race. Many try to replace exercise by fad foods and patent medicines, and thereby enrich many charlatans but benefit themselves very little. We are clamouring for larger hospitals and more operating rooms; we would be wiser to clamour for more parks and recreational areas where we may pleasantly indulge in natural exercise.

It has become the fashion among the motoring public to drive through our parks and along our highways as fast as the law allows, and to agitate for extended roads hither and yon, so that they may drive further from the beaten path. The motoring public of tomorrow will undoubtedly have different ideals; they will appreciate motor roads located through attractive districts with numerous parking places from which they may explore on foot the beauties not to be seen from the road. They will be anxious to learn what is behind the hill. Now, the average motorist has but little to tell of his trip except his daily mileage record; then, the subject of his motor trips will be treated by his friends with the discretion now used towards a postage stamp collector. When once started on a description of the trip, photos, mineral specimens, and curios of many kinds will be produced, and the story of the trip will be a long one full of plans for the exploration of other districts in the future.

There is no more delightful nor healthful way to spend a week-end than on a new trail. Popular books, plays and amusements are usually "different." National parks provide something different every few minutes; the scenery, both in relation to light and shade and relative position, is always changing; there is always the lure of the unexpected just around the corner. Many and varied are the objects to interest the observant which will never be noticed by the long-distance hiker who, like the present day motorist, takes his pleasure from his mileage records. Some of the world's richest mines have been passed unnoticed by hundreds before the man with the seeing eye came along to see, investigate, and become the envy of his less observant fellows.

An elderly clergyman was found wandering alone in the mountains. He said that during a serious illness he realized that in his lifelong study of the word to come he had seen very little of the world in which he lived. His enjoyment of his surroundings was almost pathetic; he realized too late how much of the beautiful in this life he had missed.

Various foreign governments carefully foster physical culture either in the form of citizens' military training camps, great athletic meets, or Olympic games, in which thousands of athletes annually take part.

Walking has become very popular in many European countries. In Germany they were quick to grasp the significance of this, and shelters have been established at suitable points of interest throughout that country which were patronised by over twenty million hikers last year. Not only university students to whom a hike was a college week worth weeks of college, but hosts of wage earners from the large cities made up their own parties of from half a dozen to a hundred or more, and had a most enjoyable holiday at slight expense.

Obviously the scheme is of national benefit. National health is improved and patriotism fostered by broadening the vision and familiarizing the people with their own country.

The most robust employee usually commands the best wages, but during slack times the weak ones are often discharged, to possibly become a charge on the community. National prosperity is based on national health. Strong robust manhood and womanhood is the foundation on which a strong nation must rest. Canada has much beautiful scenery, and it is not restricted to any one section of the Dominion. Why not familiarize ourselves with our own country by walking through it? Why not set aside, each year, a hiking week, preferably in the late summer or early fall months, and go on a hike of thanksgiving for our present health and gather a harvest of health for the future?

Tribute To General Booth

Aged Commander Died Penniless
Although He Controlled Millions

Appreciation of General Bramwell Booth was high during his lifetime—he was the main builder of a world-wide organization dedicated to the service of humanity; it was perhaps even higher at his death, when came opportunity to review his works; it will be higher than ever as the result of an examination of his "estate."

The fact of the matter is there is no estate. It is revealed that the aged General died absolutely penniless. He owned not one cent, and he left no property other than his uniform and a few books. He controlled millions in money and property but never drew a cent from the Army. He subsisted on a trust fund of $2,500 a year, did not own the house in which he lived, and looked to relatives to pay his children's fees at educational institutions.

There are various elements which enter into true greatness. One is capacity; others are service to one's fellows, unselfishness, sacrifice. General Booth had all these. To die penniless is sometimes accounted an object for pity or scorn. In the case of Bramwell Booth it is yet another tribute to the man and his works.—Regina Daily Post.

WEAK, WATERY BLOOD

Is the Cause Of Much Distress and General Weakness

Anaemia — which really means weak, watery blood is responsible for the pale faces, thin cheeks, dull eyes and drooping figures one sees so frequently. It is the chief cause of headaches, weak backs, aching limbs and uncertain health. Every weak, anaemic person should win the right to be well by refreshing thin, weary bodies with the new, rich, red blood so promptly supplied by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. This new blood reaches every organ and nerve in the body and quickly banishes all those troubles that have their origin in watery blood. Among those who have found new health and strength through the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills is Mrs. Elizabeth Evans, Amherst, N.S., who says: "When I began taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills I was so weak and run-down that I could scarcely go about the house, and found housework almost impossible. I was taking doctor's medicine, but with no apparent benefit. I had often read about Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and decided to try them. Soon I found they were helping me, and under their continued use I regained good health. The pills also completely relieved my son of St. Vitus Dance, so that I have every reason to praise them."

You can get the pills from your druggist, or by mail at 50 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Expensive Airplane

Probably the most expensive aeroplane ever constructed was recently built in England. It has a ceiling hand decorated, that cost $5,000. Accommodations are for eight passengers and include a lounge and bridge tables, electric kitchen and electric refrigerator. The total cost of the plane was $150,000.

LAXATIVE FOR BABY THAT "STAYS DOWN"

Baby's tiny system rebels against castor oil and strong purgatives; but here's a medicine that just suits him. And it does the work quickly and so gently that Baby doesn't feel it. Fletcher's Castoria is soothing, cross, fretful babies and children to sleep and making the feverish, constipated, upset ones well and happy, in millions of homes today. Castoria is purely-vegetable, harmless and endorsed by the medical profession. Avoid imitations. The Chas. H. Fletcher signature marks genuine Castoria.

Made Fortune By Accident

Proprietor Of Roundabout Had Unusual Luck In Australia

Fortunes are not always the result of hard work and good judgment, but are sometimes made by accident, says Jack McLaren in writing upon the subject in the London Daily Chronicle. One such case occurred when a roundabout was landed at Thursday Island—a cosmopolitan pearly centre off the north coast of Australia—for transshipment to Japan. Finding there were a few days to wait, the proprietor decided to erect his apparatus and employ the interval by making it earn a little. Instead of a few days he stayed three years.

For the island was completely lacking in entertainments, and the colored population rushed the roundabout as they would have rushed nothing else, riding it twenty hours a day, men, women and children, often three to a horse. Fare-collectors had to be put on in relays.

So many were the repairs necessitated by the excessive working that before the end of the second year the whole affair had been twice completely rebuilt. Those three years gave the owner far more money than he had thought to earn in the whole of his life.

Honor Foundation Of Rhodes Scholarships

Great Gathering Of Scholars Celebrated Twenty-Fifth Anniversary

A great gathering of scholars from the British Empire, the United States and Germany, recently assembled in the new Rhodes house to celebrate the twenty-fifth anniversary of the famous Rhodes scholarships at Oxford University.

The Prince of Wales, former Premier Stanley Baldwin and many prominent persons were present at a dinner in honor of the occasion.

Mr. Baldwin, who is one of the Rhodes trustees, made the important announcement that for the first time since Germans were excluded from the scholarships during the Great War, German scholars would again be admitted as Rhodes scholars. He said the trustees, subject to the consent of the university authorities, would establish two German scholarships annually, tenable for two years only.

Telephone Operator Sounds Fire
Siren When Bandit Invades
Office

Although bound and gagged by a bandit who had invaded the office of the Utah Telephone Company at Vernal, Utah, recently, Mrs. Hazel Hackler, the night operator, succeeded in frustrating the holdup. It was about 3.30 o'clock on a Sunday morning that the bandit appeared, and as the operator reached for the switchboard to call the night marshal, he grabbed her by the throat and choked her and then bound and gagged her. Turning to the desk nearby, he picked up the cash box, but the operator succeeded in reaching with her foot the switch which sounds the fire siren, with the result that the bandit became frightened and made his escape. — Telephone Press Service.

Makes a Difference

Simkins, who was house-hunting, and had just arrived at a station, said to a boy standing near, "My boy, I am looking for Mr. Johnson's new block of semi-detached houses. How far are they from here?" "About twenty minutes' walk," said the boy. "Twenty minutes!" exclaimed Simkins. "Nonsense! The advertisement said five." "Well," replied the boy, "you can believe me or the advertisement, whichever you like. But I ain't tryin' to sell a house!"

Recommended That Government Take Over Control Of Radio Broadcasting in Canada

Should the Dominion government take over the control and ownership of radio broadcasting in this country? What part should the provincial governments play in it? To what extent should advertising be allowed in broadcasting programmes? Would the listener-in be willing to pay $3.00 a year license instead of $1.00? Should attacks on religious and on religious leaders over the radio be prevented by law? These were some of the questions brought to the fore in the final public hearing of the royal commission on radio broadcasting held in Ottawa. Sir John Aird presided and the other members of the commission, C. A. Bowman and Dr. R. Frigon were present.

In an opening statement the chairman outlined the investigations the commission had conducted in Great Britain, France and Germany. It had held sessions in 24 cities across Canada and received the co-operation of the governments of the various provinces. Everywhere the commission had been received with greatest cordiality.

Following the meeting, at which representations were submitted by the All-Canadian Congress of Labor and the Canadian Legion of the British Empire Service League, the commission will at once begin the preparation of its report. It will probably be available about the end of the month.

The All-Canadian Congress of Labor came out flatly for the government taking over the broadcasting stations, elimination of advertising from the programmes and making the listeners-in pay the upkeep by license. The brief presented by W. T. Burford, made the following recommendations:

That the present commission be continued or a similar organization be established vested with complete administrative control of broadcasting. The radio telegraph branch of the department of marine be expanded into a department of communications, having control of all electrical communication services (land telegraph, telephone, radio-telegraph, and radio-telephone), in Canada. All broadcasting stations be owned, controlled and operated by the Dominion government through the department of communications and the radio commission. The department of communications be authorized by legislation to make use of all patented apparatus at an arbitrated valuation for the national purpose of broadcasting.

An advisory council, widely representative of purely Canadian interests, be appointed to assist the Dominion in the collection of educational and other broadcast material and to ensure freedom of speech on questions of public interest.

The Canadian Legion wanted a broadcasting organization that would develop imperial patriotism and Canadian culture. J. A. MacIsaac said, in presenting the brief for that organization. Private ownership of Canadian broadcasting stations had demonstrated that they could not compete with the United States stations. Canadians were being overwhelmed with foreign programmes charged with propaganda.

The situation could be met, the Legion thought, by federal government ownership, and operation by a directorate, in which the provinces would have representation. The Canadian broadcasting service should lead the way in developing Canadian culture in all the arts. Every opportunity should be taken to exchange broadcasting programmes with those of the British Isles.

Safety On the Farm

Guards and Protective Devices Are Needed On Farm Machinery

With the present flare of safety on highways and in factory, it is a little surprising that no more attention is being given to safety on the farm. About this time of the year it is not unusual to read of farm boys and men being caught in the wheels of tractors or under the sharp edges of farming implements and being killed or injured.

In spite of the general attention that is being paid to safety devices, manufacturers seem to be giving less and less attention to guards and protective devices on machinery designed for use on the farm.

Few tractors are manufactured that provide adequate protection for the operator. The result is that farm accidents apparently are increasing. A sudden jolt against a stump or stone, and the operator is thrown under the sharp edges of disc or plow or harrow to be mangled and maimed.

It seems to be a little problem that needs the attention of the safety councils. Just as the toll of hands and arms taken by the corn shredder was reduced by safety devices, so accidents from the use of tractors may be reduced.

Flour Production

Heavier Purchases Of Wheat On Part Of Milling Industry Is Reported

The improvement in the production of flour and other cereals by the milling industry of the Dominion this year reflects itself in heavier purchase on the part of the industry of wheat and coarse grains, says "Financial Service." To the end of April, being the first nine months of the current grain year, the produce had absorbed a total of 72,521,270 bushels of wheat, or nearly 6,000,000 bushels more than a year ago. Grinding of oats involved 8,833,173 bushels, or about the same volume as last year.

Canada As Gold Producer

The value of gold production in Canada in 1928 was $39,000,000, placing Canada third among the countries of the world in gold production. Ontario came first of the provinces with a production value of $32,000,000, followed by British Columbia, Quebec, the Yukon, Manitoba, Alberta and Nova Scotia.

Government Farm Loan Board

Farmers Taking Advantage Of Farm Loan Facilities Become Shareholders On the Board

Five of the provinces of Canada, namely Alberta, British Columbia, Quebec, Nova Scotia, and New Brunswick, have so far taken advantage of the Canadian Farm Loan Board, a Dominion Government organization formed to extend long term mortgage credit to Canadian farmers.

The farmer taking advantage of the new farm loan facilities in Canada must subscribe to the capital stock of the Canadian Farm Loan Board to the extent of five per cent. of the amount borrowed by him; the provinces in which the Farm Loan Act comes into force will subscribe to the extent of five per cent. of the total of loans in the province, while the Federal Government will also subscribe five per cent. Capital requirements of the Canadian Farm Loan Board, in addition to share capital, are provided for in authority given by the Dominion Government to issue bonds to an amount not exceeding twenty times the paid up capital stock subscribed by borrowers. Loans are to be made on first mortgages on farm lands.

A feature of the scheme is that each borrower becomes a shareholder in the board in company with the Dominion and Provincial Governments and will receive his share of profits of the operations. Loans are made only to settlers furnishing ample security.

Provincial boards have been appointed in these provinces with offices in the respective capital cities. All applications for loans in each province are first dealt with by the local boards following the inspection by the Canadian Farm Loan Board valuers of farm lands offered as security.

Interest of the farmers in the operation of the board is shown by the fact that in answer to inquiries there were recently sent out 1,200 application forms for loans in British Columbia and a similar number in Alberta, the two provinces that were the first to take advantage of the scheme. Proportionate interest is being shown in the other provinces.

The man of the hour is the one who was never heard of before today, and who will be forgotten tomorrow.

The time is approaching when Tennyson's "Vision" of the heavens filled with commerce, "pilots of the purple twilight dropping down with costly bales," will be a reality. The United States Army sends 206 planes into the air for manoeuvres. Mail air services cover the country. Air-rail lines to avoid flying by night are becoming a regular accommodation. The West Indies from Cuba to Trinidad are linked by airplanes. Shortly the system will be extended through South America to Buenos Aires.

There is a growing demand for planes of all sizes and speeds. Motor-ing in the air will be the vogue when the safe machine sought by the Guggenheim Foundation has been designed. President Seth Low, of Roosevelt Field, says that 2,000 persons were taken up in the first two weeks of June, 95 per cent. of them enjoying their first ride. Five of its pilots have flown planes 1,500,000 miles "without accident of any kind." He declares that a passenger in an inspected machine driven by a licensed pilot is probably safer than he would be in a city taxicab. Fear of the modern airplane is a state of mind. The accident rate for reputable air services is now too low to furnish an argument against the security of flying.

The world air tour of the De Sibours, husband and wife, confounds the doubter. Leaving London, last September, in a small De Havilland Moth biplane, a veritable "flivver" of the air, they flew across Europe, over North Africa to Asia Minor, and thence through Persia, India, Burma, and Siam to Indo-China. "We have done practically all our travelling in the last three years," says Vicomte de Sibour, "by plane, except for long journeys over water." Coming to the Pacific coast by steamship, they flew across the United States to New York. The cost was less than that of travel by steamship, railway and automobile. To promote aviation they should publish an account of their adventure.

To realize the importance of aviation consider the news of one day, the twenty-fifth of June. Colonel Charles A. and Mrs. Lindbergh set off from Roosevelt Field on a transcontinental tour to inspect the terminals and landing fields of a transport company. Captain Kingsford-Smith went up at Sydney, Australia, with three companions to fly to England. Peruvian army fliers who left New York, May 27, arrived at Lima. A Canadian Deputy Minister of Lands and Forests started from Toronto to fly 2,200 miles to take over Indian lands acquired by the Dominion Government. Johnson and Haugland spent their third day in the air in an attempt to break the endurance record. Captain R. G. Hoyt, U.S.A., was preparing to fly from Mitchell Field to San Francisco and back in thirty-six hours.—New York Times.

Getting the Railway's Goat

Every year there is a contest between the two big railway systems of Canada for what is called the "Railway Goat," the trophy awarded to the winner in the softball teams made up by the Canadian Pacific and Canadian National Railways. This year C.P.R. took it with a score of 18-17, figures which indicate how keenly the contest was fought out. The trophy is now dubbed—for at least a year—the C.N.R. goat and the animal will repose at headquarters of the C.P.R. until it is either lost or retained a the annual fight next year.

AN EXPENSIVE RISK

The people of Didsbury and other surrounding towns are urged to take every precaution in regard to the emptying of hot ashes.

The disastrous fire at Wainwright on July 21, which apparently started from burning rubbish fanned by a strong wind, should be a warning to people that they cannot be too careful where the fire menace is concerned. A serious fire at Halkirk on July 15th, starting from hot ashes, was narrowly averted only by the untiring efforts of practically every citizen of the town.

After throwing out ashes make sure that there are no live coals in them. A pail or two (more even) of water and a little time might mean the saving of thousands of dollars of property, besides the risk of lives being lost. With the strong winds that have prevailed the beginning of the week it would not take a fire very long to destroy numerous buildings.

Don't let the thought that there cannot be live coals in the ashes you are emptying satisfy you—be positive.

THE SMALL TOWN

One frequently hears the complaint voiced by the very young members of the community that they are fed up with the small town and that they long to get out into the big world where they could do things and enjoy life to the full.

Only experience can teach that these juvenile hopes and aspirations are in the majority of cases doomed to bitter disappointment in the realization of what the great outside world holds in store. The majority of this juvenile army of longers after life and excitement come to the stage where they would give anything to get back to the simpler pleasures and real friends of the small town only to find that they are carried by a current which renders the backward swim a feat impossible of accomplishment.

Perhaps the restless youngsters are old enough, and big enough, and know enough to care for themselves, but it usually is the case that those who brag about being able to care for themselves are the ones who need the most restraining.

While those who have gone through the experience can sympathize with those who chafe at the confines and restrictions of a "little burg," yet they can assure the young people of today that they have in that "little burg" nearly all the things and nearly all the opportunities which the young folks of a couple of decades ago thought they had to go to the big city to get. Young folks of today have pleasures and opportunities manifold greater than those which were presented to the young folks of yesterday. In the "little burg" today are all the things that would have made contented the young folks of yesterday.

The girl or boy of today who hasn't an automobile in the family feels that Providence has been very unkind to him. In days not so very long ago the two-horse rig that could be driven with one hand was thought quite sufficient for a Sunday afternoon's pleasure. We didn't get quite so far along on the road but the time didn't drag on our hands and the road seemed short enough.

When those now in middle age were young there were no moving picture theaters and unless they moved out of the "little burg" they had no chance to see a good show, but looking back through the years the little family parties and taffy pulls, almost never heard of now, seem to have been far from unpleasant affairs and to have possessed pleasant features.

We got along pretty well with all our handicaps and there was far more sociability when there were fewer places to go than there is now when even staid folks who were raised under the more prosaic conditions of a couple or three decades ago have been partially carried away by the growing craze for amusement, to be entertained, to be doing something and to be going somewhere.

Gravel, oil and water are making an improvement in the appearance of our main streets; the trees and boulevards combine to enhance the beauty of the residential section, and with a little rain we will be able to boast of one of the prettiest towns in Alberta.—Vulcan Advocate.

These cars are given over entirely to the use of the passengers and contain, among other things, two green-tiled shower-baths, a ladies lounge, a large smoking-room, an observation lounge and a Solarium. This latter, which takes the place of the open platform is glazed with vitreous glass which admits all the beneficial sun rays, and permits an unbroken view in luxurious comfort. The main observation lounge and the ladies lounge are furnished in various tapestries. The smoking-room and the Solarium in soft leather, blue and red in the smoke-room and sand colored in the rear compartment. A small buffet will provide refreshment as auxiliary to the dining car which is also of new and novel design.

ITEMS OF INTEREST

Hon. J. E. Brownlee, Premier of Alberta, and Dr. R. C. Wallace, president of the University of Alberta, left Monday for the Peace River country on a four weeks' tour of the north in which they will use railway, power boat, automobile and airplane. This will be the first time in the province that the head of Alberta's government and the head of the province's university will travel to the extreme northern boundary of the province.

Alberta stood highest among the provinces of Canada with a per capita loss of $5.74 caused by fires during the year 1928 according to figures compiled by the Dominion Fire Commission. The total fire loss in the Dominion during the year is given at $102,697,849.00.

Thursday last, the first earload, over 12 tons of clear colored and superior quality Taber produced and refined honey was shipped from Taber to a Medicine Hat wholesale house. This is the product of some 800 hives, housing twelve million bees, placed on farms in that irrigation district by the Riedel Honey Co., this spring. Probably seven to eight tons of honey are being produced daily in the Taber district.—Taber Times.

Roving bands of Gypsies, not in the proverbial caravan, but using the more modern method of transportation, seem to have been making the rounds of the small towns in the province. A number of auto loads of these worthless Canadian citizens have made their appearance in Didsbury on a couple of occasions this year already. The latest haul they seem to have made took place at Galadad on July 19, according to the Alliance Times. The clerk in a store at that point somehow or other was persuaded to open the till and safe for a Gypsy maid fortune teller. $290 was missing when the owner returned. The A.P.P. trailed the five cars in which they were travelling to Veteran. The money was recovered, chiefly by good luck.

CEREAL CROP FIELD DAY

At Dominion Experimental Station, Lacombe, Friday, August 9th

Although the 1929 weather conditions are about the worst on record, the crops at the Experimental Station have stood the severe test remarkably well. The trying crop season has brought out prominently the results of different methods of cultivation, different rotations and different varieties and more may be learned than in a really good year.

A Cereal Crop Field Day is being arranged for Friday, August 9th, at which addresses will be given by men prominent in various lines of crop improvement. During the day a trip will be made about the many lines of experimental work at the Station. Following a banquet at 6:30 addresses will be given by speakers who are recognized authorities on their subjects. This will be an interesting and profitable day for everyone who can visit the Station. The programme will be as follows:

1:30 p.m. in the Plot Field

F. H. Reed—Welcome to visitors.
W. T. G. Weiner, Ottawa—Methods of Registration and Pedigreeing.
G. E. DeLong—Methods of Producing Elite Stock Seed.
R. A. Derick, Ottawa—The Classification of Oats.

Banquet at 6:30, followed by Evening Meeting.

J. H. Craigie, Winnipeg—Methods of Rust Control.

Peter Stewart, Toronto—Malting Barley.

Major H. G. L. Strange, Fenn—The Education of Seed Growers.

Quite a number of Didsburyites attended the Olds Fair yesterday.

Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Chambers returned home this week after a two weeks' motor trip.

Mr. and Mrs. Roger Barrett and family returned the first of this week from a four weeks' trip across the border.

Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Berscht and little daughter are spending this week at Sylvan Lake.

More New Canadians

This picture which was taken on the arrival of the S.S. Melita shows one of the families brought to the Dominion under the Askew Scheme. The Laird of Ladykirk, Scotland, V. W. H. Askew, provided the amount of $10,000 to enable desirable British agriculturists to come to the Dominion. Automatically a further $10,000 was made available under the terms of The Empire Settlement Act. The recruitment and all administrative features are being handled by the Colonization Department of the Canadian Pacific. The pensive young gentleman in the foreground reflects the attitude of a well seasoned traveller.

PALLISER AND EMPRESS EXTENSIONS

Over the signature of E. W. Beatty, chairman and president of the Canadian Pacific Railway, has come the announcement that large extensions are to be made to the Palliser Hotel at Calgary and the Empress Hotel at Vancouver and that the additional accommodation will be ready for occupancy before the peak of the present years tourist traffic. This is good news, not only to the two cities more directly concerned where a total of more than four million dollars will be spent in the work, but to a vast legion in all corners of the earth to whom the Canadian West is a lodestone.

When Calgary read of the four additional floors which will add 200 rooms with bath to the city's accommodation it thought of Stampede week, and the thousands who pour in from all points of the compass, clamouring for accommodation and joining the mill of Cowboys, Indians and old-timers who for one week drop back to the color, romance, gaiety and sport of the early 80's.

Calgary is a steadily progressive city. Its trade and commerce continue to expand. It is a great city of the plains and the Palliser will be as spacious and beautiful as is fitting to city and the times.

The "Empress" addition of 270 rooms with bath shown above will also be appreciated by an ever increasing number to whom the quiet English city of the Pacific coast holds annual appeal. The new wing will be a beautiful structure carrying out the chateau type of architecture exemplified by the old building. When, however, its walls become ivy clad and its stone lines and traceries are covered by the foliage it will lose nothing and fit still more with the background of holly hedges and box-wood trimmings.

When these two extensions are completed, Canadians may take still more pride in a chain of Canadian owned and operated hotels which extends from coast to coast and in point of view of service, comfort and appointments is second to none in the world.

South Africa's Problem

White Man Incapable Of Skilled Work Is Classed As Kafir

By the Colour Bar Act, it is an offence for a native to undertake skilled work. Unskilled jobs are, therefore, regarded as "Kaffirs' work," and no white man would dream of undertaking them. The result is that, if the European is incapable of skilled work, he cannot enter the ranks and becomes a "poor white," a social parasite, a loafer hanging on to the skirts of white society, a decadent slowly sinking lower into the morass of degradation, a feckless, hopeless figure. One white man in every twelve in South Africa is in this category today! It is the greatest social problem with which the country has to deal. This is the price they are paying for the introduction of slavery two centuries ago, and for the maintenance ever since of the slave-owners' attitude towards manual toil. So long as manual labour is regarded as degrading and as "Kaffirs' work" with which no white man must soil his hands, just so long will industrial prosperity delay its coming.

RED HOT JULY DAYS HARD ON THE BABY

July—the month of oppressive heat; red-hot days and sweltering nights; is extremely hard on little ones. Diarrhoea, dysentery, colic and cholera infantum carry off thousands of precious little lives every summer. The mother must be constantly on her guard to prevent these troubles, or, if they come on suddenly, to fight them. No other medicine is of such aid to mothers during the hot summer as is Baby's Own Tablets. They regulate the bowels and stomach, and an occasional dose given to the well child will prevent summer complaint, or if the trouble does come on suddenly, will banish it. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25c. a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Rubber From Weeds

Edison Experimented With Many Varieties Before He Was Successful

Mr. Thomas A. Edison has discovered a substitute for rubber. He long ago found that there could be no substitute for the rubber tree as the source of rubber, but he has discovered a weed—after experimenting with 15,000 varieties—which will produce a latex fluid from which a workable substitute for rubber can be extracted. The weed can be mowed like wheat, it was asserted by Mr. Edison's representative, and does not require planting anew every year, being a perennial. Mr. Edison has of late been engaged in experiments with the object of making a machine which will separate the rubber substitute from other components of the fluid, but he has so far not been successful in this direction.

Your Home Medicine Chest.—Among the standard household remedies that should always be on hand in your home medicine chest, none is more important than Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil. Its manifold usefulness in relieving pain and healing sickness is known by many thousands throughout the land. Always use Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil for relieving rheumatic and sciatic pains, treating sore throats and chests, coughs, burns, scalds, cuts, bruises and sprains.

Appreciation Of Spain

Officers Of British Aircraft Carrier "Eagle" Decorated By Spanish Premier

Premier De Rivera, of Spain, summoned the officers of British aircraft carrier "Eagle," to be decorated with the Spanish Cross of Merit for saving Commander Ramon Franco and his three companions from the mid-Atlantic. The ceremony took place at Madrid.

It was Spain's crowning gesture of appreciation for the great service the Britishers had done to the Spanish government in rescuing the fliers. As soon as the full list of the members of the crew of the "Eagle" is received from the British admiralty the sailors and marines of the rescuing ship also will be awarded medals.

The "Eagle" itself will be decorated with the aerial medal. This ceremony will take place either at Algiers or Gibraltar, as soon as the British admiralty finds it convenient to send the ship there for that purpose.

The Family Physician.—The good doctor is always worth his fee. But it is not always possible to get a doctor just when you want him. In such cases, common sense suggests the use of reliable home remedies, such as Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil, which is wonderfully effective in easing inflammatory pains and healing cuts, scratches, bruises and sprains. The presence of this remedy in the family medicine chest saves many a fee.

One of the impressive things of modern life is to stand and watch a single policeman dam the flow of traffic. And hear the pedestrian.

Men's Dress Of the Future

Weird Costumes Are Described That May Be Worn a Hundred Years Hence

Somewhat fantastic is the prediction of a New York clothier regarding the character of the dress for men one hundred years from now. He says legs will be bare from the ankles to the knee and that wide shorts will take the place of trousers for every-day business wear. Coats will disappear and be replaced by a combination jacket and shirt, open at the neck like a polo shirt. Bright sandals will send shoes into the discard.

The only explanation of this nightmare is that mere men must be getting jealous of the sensible manner in which women are dressing in this day and generation. But, as a matter of fact, anything can happen in a hundred years. What most of us forget is that styles for men are just as likely to change as anything else. In the earlier days our forefathers dressed in a fashion which, if worn on the streets of Philadelphia today, would attract universal attention. Wigs with pigtails, silk and satin knee breeches, gay stockings and low, buckled shoes were always in order for the well-dressed man.

It would not be so revolutionary if we were to go back to the dress, as well as to the principles, of the men of 1776.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

"My papa's a bookkeeper," said little Edwin, proudly.

"Yes, I know it," replied small Ruth. "He borrowed a book from my father six months ago and hasn't returned it."

For Baby's Bath

More than that of any other member of the family, baby's tender, delicate skin needs the greatest care and attention. The soft soothing oils in Baby's Own Soap make it specially suitable for babies, and its clinging fragrance reminds one of the roses of France which help to inspire it.

The Singing Fool

By HUBERT DAIL

Copyright, 1928, Warner Bros. Pictures, Inc.

SYNOPSIS

Marcus, the famous Broadway producer, heads a party of four that visits Blackie Joe's night club in downtown New York. Al Stone, Blackie's chief comedian and singing waiter, takes the order for beer. Grace, the cigarette girl, is in love with Al, but he doesn't know it. As he returns with the beer he encounters Molly, the ballad singer, whom he loves ardently. He begs her to sing a song he has just written. Molly is disdainful toward him. Blackie Joe tells Molly that the great Marcus is outside and she makes him promise to introduce her. When Al rushes back to her dressing room she refuses even to read his song. He sees it on the floor under her feet!

CHAPTER IV.

Al could scarcely believe his eyes—his song, the heart-throb ballad he had poured forth from the depths of his soul, lying on the floor unnoticed, under Molly's sharp and careless heel!

He raised his gaze as he felt Molly about to sweep by him. Scarcely knowing what he was doing, he seized the angry girl in his arms, pulling her close to him, staring beseechingly into her eyes. She tried to pull away, but his grip of steel held her.

"Molly!" he pleaded. "Didn't you even read it?"

Again Molly tried to escape, succeeding this time. If she had been angry before she was blazing now. "How dare you try to stop me? I told you I had important business out in front tonight! You bothersome idiot—you've almost ruined my make-up!"

She returned to her dressing table and began dusting her arms and shoulders with powder. On the lapels and sleeves of Al's coat were the heavy white marks of the powder. But he did not notice them, nor did he hear her words. Slowly he stooped over, like a man in a dream, picking up his song. He saw the sharp print of Molly's steel-rimmed heel across the music. It had almost cut through the paper, and he stared at it for a long moment. It was as if that little heel had cut into his heart.

Again she headed for the door, reaching the corridor. Then she realized that Al was following her and she turned about, determined to settle him once and for all. Her blue eyes were glittering and her voice had a rasping, harsh quality.

"Al Stone, get this through your head. I won't have anything to do with you. I'm not going to marry you or any other waiter!

With vitriolic sarcasm she emphasized the word "waiter." Then with a flirt of her skirts she disappeared down the corridor. A moment later she was in the main room and had forgotten Al entirely, for she saw the figure of Marcus, czar of the Broadway revues, with his party at the ringside table across the dance floor.

At once her manner and expression changed. The calculating gleam in her eyes was masked by a soft, bright, friendly look; her body, which had been rigid with anger a moment before, relaxed so that she moved toward the Marcus table with an easy, sensuous walk. She was a very pretty girl at that moment. No one would have believed her features had been distorted by rage just a moment before; no one would have thought that she could treat a man as cruelly as she had just treated Al. But Molly was burning with ambition and she saw in Al only a love-lorn man who would be a hindrance to her in her climb toward fame. So she treated him ruthlessly, not because she disliked him, but because he got in her way. Her feeling toward him was neither love nor hate, it was just indifference. If he had been rich, powerful or socially distinguished, Molly would have played up to him like a soft and affectionate kitten. But—he wasn't.

Meanwhile, there sat Marcus, fifty feet away, chatting amiably with his companions and occasionally sending a bored glance toward the cabaret show that was in progress on the rectangular floor a few feet from his table. Molly studied his face and began to plan her course of action.

"What shall I do to make him like me," she whispered softly to herself, "baby stuff or a more sophisticated line? He looks so sophisticated himself, so maybe the baby stuff will go better. Remember, Molly darlin', that man can make you famous on Broadway if he likes you. But where—"

She cut short her unspoken soliloquy to look about for Blackie Joe, who had promised to introduce her to Marcus. Finally, she located him talking to some customers. She moved over to his side.

"Blackie."

He looked up.

"You know—" she said significantly. "I'd like to meet him before I do my songs. Then he'll be more interested in watching my stuff."

"Wise little girl," said Blackie, patting her on the arm. "Yes, I know. I'll give you a knockdown right now."

He took her by the hand and led her toward the Marcus table. She saw Marcus's eyes rise to meet hers, then Marcus himself was standing in response to Blackie's genial introduction. As if from a distance she heard Blackie's voice:

"Mr. Marcus, this is one of my most talented performers. Molly, may I present the most celebrated producer and picker of pretty girls on Broadway?"

Marcus smiled and courteously made way for Molly to sit down beside him. He knew that was what the girl wanted and he was willing to be polite about it for Blackie's sake. But to say that he was interested in Molly would be rank exaggeration. He had too many superbly beautiful girls in his revues to be impressed by one who was merely pretty.

Nevertheless, he addressed a few well-bred remarks to Blackie's singer and Molly, priding herself on her conversational gifts, came back in the most animated manner. But in a moment Marcus turned from her as the young actress on the other side of him engaged his attention.

Molly studied this girl closely, her gleaming jewels, her lovely little baby-doll face.

"There is a girl," thought Molly, "that Marcus is making famous. I'll say she looks like money, yet she's no prettier than I am. This man can put me on the map, too."

But at the moment it certainly appeared as if Marcus hadn't the slightest intention of helping Molly. In fact it seemed as if he had forgotten her presence entirely.

Meanwhile, the singing waiter, whose love she had flouted, paced the corridor leading to Molly's dressing room. For a moment he stopped and stared at the crumpled song-sheet he held in his hand, his face the picture of dejection. Outside were the syncopated rhythms from the jazz band and the staccato beats of a pair of tap dancers in action, but the only sound that echoed in Al's ears came from Molly's parting words. They seemed to reverberate through his whole body, like the dirge to his hopes and love. At last he realized completely that his chance of winning Molly was an utterly lost cause.

Dull despair crept over him and the sheet of music slipped from his unresisting hands. Mechanically, and without knowing what he was doing, he stooped and picked it up. Then the title of the song across the top caught his eye—"Always."

"Always"—what a fool he was to write a song like that, fondly believing it would touch her heart and that she would share his enthusiasm for it! Swiftly he crumpled the song-sheet in his fist, as if to wipe the memory of its creation.

In the distance, from a corner of the main room, Grace, the cigarette girl, was watching him sympathetically and intently. She had seen him talking to Molly. Vaguely she sensed the cause of his despair.

But Grace, loving him generously, thought not of herself nor of Molly, but only of some way to help Al in this time of trouble. Al, the gay, wise-cracking, singing waiter, had lost his pep and energy; Al, of the kindly, handsome mouth, of the deep, warm, glowing brown eyes; Al, who had been her best friend at Blackie Joe's—was suffering. She knew he didn't love her and considered her only a sweet child, but that didn't matter.

Giving a quick glance around, Grace stepped into the corridor and approached him on tiptoe. Al felt a light touch on his sleeve and heard a soft, sympathetic voice at his shoulder. He gave a start, thinking, in a mad burst of hope that it might be Molly. Then he looked down into Grace's eyes.

"What's the matter, Al?"

Little Helps For This Week

"I will teach you the good and the right way.—1 Samuel xii. 23.

Live to do good; but not with thought to win
From man return of any kindness done.

Do naught but good; for such the noble strife

If virtue is, 'Gainst wrong to venture love,

He began to talk very gently about different sorts of kindness, and that if I wished to be kind like a Christian, I must be kind without hoping for any reward, whether gratitude or anything else. He told me that the best followers of Jesus in all times had tried hard to do every thing, however small, for God's sake, and to put themselves away.—Julian Horatia Ewing.

New Canadian Record

Official Altitude Record Of 20,000 Feet Made By Special Pilot

Captain J. D. Parkinson, special pilot of the Curtiss-Reid Flying Services, Ltd., Montreal, established an official Canadian altitude record of 20,000 feet in a cabin monoplane. He carried a sealed barograph.

The previous Canadian record was 18,000 feet, established by Captain Leigh Capenol in a Moth plane.

Captain Parkinson's flight occupied one hour and 28 minutes, of which one hour and two minutes was occupied in the climb upwards.

When Food Sours

About two hours after eating many people suffer from sour stomachs. They call it indigestion. It means that the stomach nerves have been overstimulated. There is excess acid. The way to correct it is with an alkali, which neutralizes many times its volume in acid.

The right way is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia—just a tasteless dose in water. It is pleasant, efficient, and harmless. It has remained the standard with physicians in the 50 years since its invention.

It is the quick method. Results come almost instantly. It is the approved method. You will never use another when you know.

Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting excess acids. Each bottle contains full directions—any drugstore.

Don't Let Foods Stale

Foods that ordinarily stale quickly will stay fresh and tempting a surprisingly long time if you cover them with Para-Sani Heavy Waxed Paper.

Your grocer, druggist or stationer has Para-Sani in the handy, sanitary knife-edged carton. For those who prefer a lighter paper put up in sheet form ask for Appleford's "Centre Pull" Packs.

Mrs. Alex. Lieper and family are spending their holidays with the former's parents at Okotoks.

Mr and Mrs N. Eckel and son Robert took in the Three Hills' sports last week. Robert carried off first prize in the horseshoe tournament.

Mrs. Davidson conducted a very successful 5 day sewing course in the Lone Pine Hall under the auspices of the W.L.

About 45 friends and neighbors gathered at the home of Mrs. E. R. McAllister on Friday evening, last to wish her many happy returns on the occasion of her 69th birthday. Mr. Hanlan Walsh gave a short address and Mrs. T. Hunter presented her with a beautiful blooming plant on behalf of the assembly. A splendid lunch was served, finishing off with all the ice cream everyone could eat. We hope Mrs. McAllister may be spared to have many more happy birthdays.

Keiver lake is fast coming to the front as a summer resort and bids fair to out rival Sylvan Lake in popularity. It is easy of access, has splendid scenery, a perfect beach for bathing and everything needed to make picnickers and bathers comfortable. Every Sunday hundreds of cars come to its shores. A large dancing pavilion is being built for the Old Timers' picnic on August 9th. There will be several baseball games and a horseshoe tournament with good prizes for all events, races of all kinds also water sports. Keep the date in mind—August 9th, and bring the whole family and enjoy a day at one of nature's beauty spots.

Revisit Scene of Exploits

Left to right they are James Stephens, C.P.R. pensioner; and Tom Wilson, discoverer of Lake Louise in the early eighties. The photograph was taken recently at Banff. Mr. Stephens, who now lives at Oak Lake, Man., was astonished at the changes at Banff since he first saw the place fifty years ago. Then it was all virgin forest; nowadays it has a first-class hotel and what were rough tracks through the timber are now bridle paths, fine roads and railway tracks. Indians were a source of continual danger in his youth; today they are an important part of the local attraction. Mr. Wilson, like Mr. Stephens, well into the seventies, is also like him one of the original trail blazers of the Canadian Pacific Railway in the Rockies. The wonderful air of the mountains has kept them both young as the photograph shows.
